Question no 2 x (a)

I am agreeing with your point statement that I started my education earlier and received my graduation degree earlier.

The reason why I start my education early is that my family is educated and since my childhood everyone <sup>gave</sup> concentrated on me and since that time I passed and getting good result, regardless education my family developed my interest many other things. like I am For example I participated in every type of extra curriculum activities and my family member appreciated and guided me and giving a lot of information related to those things and also told me the advantages of each and every thing of life. When I was 10th grader, I did a job in a shop to learn about some work related to software and hardware of mobile and I gained experienced to deal with other people and after it I started online job as performing small task and later on I learn many more skills to gain other high-price jobs and I also continuous my studies. Yeah! I soon received my graduation degree early but in the period of the education I learn a lot of things and experience many things.

Part B)1r

Part 2)r

The above response of the candidate during the job interview shows that his over confidence without further explanation. For example he used confidential argument rather he provide his experience, achievement etc. in a neutral behaviour.

Part 3)r

The wrong response is wrong somehow because the candidate shows his <sup>desire to get</sup> ~~own~~ benefit and never tell that he is really passionate about his job or he is interested in his work, he shows his will to ~~his~~ get the job.

(3)

19K-1356

Sajida

The 4th statement response of candidate shows over confident and he shows that he is not interested to give his talk to interviewer and in over confidence he said, 'my resume speaks for itself'. This is not a answer to any question. It shows aggressiveness.

Part 5)

This response of candidate shows that negativity. In interview, it is very essential that you show positivity and good communicator and never shows inferior someone for the boss, because the interviewer thinks it not good for your personal attitude/personality.

Part 6)

This response show very informal attitude and over confidence to get job where he would move.
It shows an argument not a convincing technique statement.
